Welcome Ministry

We welcome newcomers and visitors in the Lord's name to our Parish. Can you help? We are looking for greeters at Sunday Mass who can also assist with simple Parish contacts; others willing to organize occasional "get togethers" for the newly arrived; and still others to prepare written and other media to convey our greetings and assist newcomers to find their place in our Parish community. Please call the Rectory to tell us of your interest (781-631-0086). Hoping to hear.

August 29/30th

Our Parish community exercises our mission to live the Gospel in the daily lives of its members. This reality is supported by the special ministries our Parish develops and supports through Prayer and Worship, Life Accompaniments of various sorts and by Community Outreach efforts. Our Annual Ministries Weekend will be August 29th and 30th. We present and recruit for volunteer positions for all our existing and new ministries. Representatives from each initiative will be available following all masses to explain the mission and goals of the work and to assist those interested to sign up.

National Make-A-Will Month!

August is a perfect time to plan ahead and to protect your family. A will reflects your values-providing comfort, protecting your loved ones, and strengthening your faith-based stewardship for generations to come.

Project Rachel is a confidential ministry that offers hope and healing for women (and men) in pain from past abortions. Information at the doors of the Church.

Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish

Marblehead, Massachusetts

August 16, 2026
Twentieth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Dear Parishioner of Our Lady Star of the Sea,

Mission is a main theme of our prayer this weekend: Jesus', yours and mine. "I was sent only to the lost sheep of the house of Israel" (see Matthew 17:21-28). These words of Jesus from today's Gospel speak of the measure of his mission. Are these dimensions narrow and focused? Are these dimensions wide and embracing? It is the latter. The lost sheep could mean that some of the house of Israel are lost and to these was he sent. Jesus could also mean that all members of the house of Israel are lost and to them was he sent. Above all he means that there are great numbers of folk, the nations of the world, who await his mission. They are the ones for whose sake the Chosen People were called and blessed. Until the promises made to Abraham be fulfilled, the many nations of the world would not yet receive their share in God's manifold graces. To them, to the chosen and to all, is he sent. And so are you and I.

It is clear from the Gospels that Jesus came to give his life as a ransom for us all. It is in that context that we read of the Canaanite Woman who asks Jesus to heal her daughter. She is not of the house of Israel, neither by birth nor by conversion. She is a pagan. And yet, she too had been called by God to take part in the blessings first given to Israel but meant for the world. As the first reading from Isaiah (see Is 56:1,6-7) foretold: "my house shall be a house of prayer for all peoples." St. Paul explains (see Romans 1:13-15, 29-32), speaking to Gentiles, that God will "have mercy on all."

The woman's request for help is initially portrayed as a kind of inopportune barking. Jesus gives her no answer; the disciples want her sent away. Jesus, however, does give her opportunity to reconsider her lament, focused as it is on herself, her woes and how life has burdened her: "Lord, help me!." Jesus speaks clearly and encouragingly that it is the child who is in need, not the woman and her distress. And, in accord with nascent faith, she hears, is moved and declares herself more than able to live on the leftovers of anything the Lord might do, yes, for the benefit of her child. It is then done as she prayed; her daughter is healed.

Jesus calls his disciples to an ever more generous service of God's mercy. The world of nations is in need of great help these days. Recourse to violence on the world stage is taken for granted. Our own society here in the USA is in precarious turmoil. Indeed, discord is on the rise. Progress in communications, transport and information has not, of itself, brought the world together in mercy and in peace. Our own Commonwealth seeks to remove the last shreds of accountability for a child's life right up to the moment of birth. It wants removed, too, even minimal requirements of proper medical care for women in such circumstance. Do we not care?

You and I who do not live by bread alone, but by every Word that comes forth from the mouth of God must point to a love greater than all, a love that binds us all in freedom and in truth. We must not take the blessings that have been given and throw them to the dogs, especially in the context of a dog-eat-dog world that we have witnessed of late. Rather, true to the teachings and Word of Jesus and, in the face of challenges of whatever sort and from whatever source, you can respond with a credible affirmation of the truth of God's love and mercy for all. You and I love our enemies, do good to those who harm us and pray for those who persecute us. Why? It is the way of God himself towards the lost: us and our world. It is the way by which hate and intolerance are met by a better way of life: the goodness that God wants for us all. You and I point to Jesus, our Brother and Lord.

As Summer draws to its end, I ask your prayers for our Religious Education Program! We are guided by a spiritual concern of doing our best to witness to Christ, a witness that our society and our youngsters really need to see! We are preparing to support our families and youngsters in the best ways possible. We need your assistance to reach out and encourage families who are behind in religious education.

Asking God's blessing on you and yours, I am

Yours in the Lord's service,

Msgr. Timothy J. Moran

As a follow up to our Plastic Free July initiative, Beyond Plastics, http://plastics.org, is offering a free webinar on The Social Cost of Plastic.

The Webinar will focus on a report from Duke University that exposes the "staggering reality of the true economic, environmental and human health costs of plastic pollution, estimated to be between $436 billion to $1.1 trillion annually."

Beyond Plastics goes on to say that "The unsustainable toll impacts everything from our healthcare systems to our marine ecosystems. It is time to uncover the true cost of the plastic lifecycle, and what we can do to shift toward a sustainable future."

The webinar is on Tuesday, September 15 at 7pm. Find more information about the webinar: The Social Cost of Plastic: Beyond Plastics Free Webinar with Duke University and Natural Resources Defense Council — Beyond Plastics - Working To End Single-Use Plastic Pollutionbit.ly

We hope you will join members of the CCT at this event.

Did you know…?

Before there were medals, before there were formal prayers of exorcism, before the Church had developed its full liturgical tradition of spiritual protection — there was the Sign of the Cross.

It is the oldest and most universal gesture in Christianity, and it is far more than a ritual habit. Traced over the body while invoking the Trinity — In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit — it is a deliberate act of faith, a physical claim of belonging, and a statement of authority over whatever the believer is facing.

The Church Fathers documented its use in the earliest centuries. Tertullian, writing around 200 AD, described Christians making the Sign of the Cross throughout their daily lives — before eating, before bathing, before leaving the house, before beginning any work.

The Pathways to Friendship Ministry is planning a Wine and Cheese Art Auction scheduled for Nov. 7 at 6 p.m. to raise funds for support of the developmentally challenged adults' monthly events. Donations of original artworks of various sort are being solicited. See Flyer at the doors of the Church for details and suggestions. Camp Fatima

Several members of our parish Youth Group will serve as counsellors at Camp Fatima this week. It should be a good experience for them and for the campers. Let's support all involved with our prayers and good wishes.

I've learned that the "dog days" are the period from July 3 through August 11 and so called because that is when the "dog star," Sirius, is visible at dawn. Sirius is the brightest star in the constellation Canis Major (Bigger Dog), and in ancient times it was thought that the constellation brought the hot weather. Although the stars probably don't control our weather, at least we've been able to enjoy some good old-fashioned summery weather, and we can hope for a bit more before the chill settles in.

This week the Memorial of St. Bernard of Clairvaux, O. Cist., Abbot and Doctor of the Church is on August 20. He was born in 1090, the third child of noble Burgundian parents. In 1113 he and thirty companions joined the recently founded abbey of Citeaux which sought to live a stricter observance of the Rule of St. Benedict. Many others followed him. In 1115 he was sent to found a new house, which became Clairvaux, and 60 Cistercian monasteries were founded from there during his lifetime, as the order grew rapidly. In addition to attracting vocations, Bernard preached extensively, promoting devotion to the Blesssed Virgin Mary, preaching extensively on the Song of Songs, and promoting the Second Crusade. He supported the founding of the Knights Templar to protect pilgrims journeying in the Holy Land. He died on August 20, 1153, was canonized in 1174 and declared a Doctor of the Church in 1830 https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bernard_of_Clairvaux.

August 21 is the Memorial of Pope St. Pius X. Born in 1835, he was a good and diligent student. He was ordained a priest in 1858, and was given increasing responsibilities, becoming bishop of Mantua in 1884. He was named a cardinal and Patriarch of Venice in 1893. He was elected Pope at the conclave following the death of Pope Leo XIII in 1903. As pope he supported the theology of St. Thomas Aquinas, opposed Modernism, and sought to assure the religious formation of all children and young people by requiring the establishment of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine in every diocese. He did not accept the annexation of the Papal States by the Kingdom of Italy, causing friction with Italy, France, and other countries. His liturgical reforms included lowering the age for First Communion, promoting the use of Gregorian Chant, and issuing revisions of the Breviary (Divine Office) and the liturgical calendar. He is depicted in a window in our choir loft: he is the figure in white to the right of the window of the birth of Jesus. He was canonized in 1954 https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pope_Pius_X.

The Memorial of the Queenship of Mary comes on August 22. Above the altar in our church there is a stained glass window depicting Jesus placing a crown on Mary's head in heaven. This represents the Fifth Glorious Mystery of the Rosary: the crowning of Mary as Queen of Heaven. There is logic behind this. Jesus is King, as we celebrate on the Feast of Christ the King; and this means that Mary is the Queen Mother. There are many references in scripture to queens which Christian piety sees as pointing in their fullest sense to Mary. Just one example is the passage in the Book of Revelation which tells of a woman clothed with the sun with a crown of twelve stars. (Revelation 12:1) We call Mary queen in the prayer "Hail, Holy Queen," which is prayed at the conclusion of the Rosary and sung in the hymn "Hail Holy Queen Enthroned Above." In the original Latin, "Salve Regina," it is chanted at the conclusion of Night Prayer in Ordinary Time and frequently at funerals of clergy. Another Marian Antiphon is one we pray during Eastertide in place of the Angelus: Regina Cæli/Queen of Heaven Rejoice. From February 2 through Lent "Ave Regina Cælorum/Hail Queen of Heaven" replaces "Salve Regina" at the end of Night Prayer. The reason we emphasize Mary's queenship is that it means she is a powerful intercessor for us with her Son, Christ the King https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Queen_of_Heaven.

Have a good week.
Enjoy the summer
