Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish

Marblehead, Massachusetts

September 27, 2026
Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Dear Parishioner of Our Lady Star if the Sea,

To focus our prayer this weekend, the First Reading (see Ezekiel 18:25-28) calls us to an integral conversion of life. We are resolutely to turn from any wickedness we may have committed and to commit ourselves, rather, to do what is right and good. God's promise, then, is that we shall surely live. Walking together in the ways of grace is a central focus, too, of our Church. You will have seen flyers in the Church inviting interested parishioners to Archdiocesan discussions on "synodality," the art and skill of walking together in the ways of God's kingdom. I certainly encourage you to consider one or another of these presentations for your personal benefit and for what you can do to enrich our life and work as a parish.

"Which of the two did his father's will?" The Gospel this weekend offers us a familiar parable about two sons (see Matthew 21:28-32) who are, if anything, too much like ourselves. One initially refuses his father's request but later relents and carries it out. He is the "denying doer." The other readily agrees to his father's directive in person, but does not in fact carry it out. He is the "affirming shirker." In an important way neither the "denying doer" son nor the "affirming shirker" son really does our heavenly Father's will. You and I, however, are to do the Father's will! The Gospel invites us to live in such a way that our words and our deeds reflect the same truth and love. As Saint Paul prays (see Philippians 2:1-11), we are to have "the same attitude that is also in Christ Jesus." We are to do what we affirm and are to shirk away from any denial of what is asked of us in love. We are to affirm, with everything in us, our belief in God's love and show the same in our readiness to carry out the work that our Father entrusts to our hands.

As Jesus was obedient to the point of death, so, St. Paul encourages us, we will share in his victory if we "do nothing out of selfishness or of vainglory," but rather humbly regard others as more important than ourselves, looking out not for our own interests but also for those of others. Cultivate, then, that virtue of heart in which words and deeds match in commitment to what is good, true and beautiful in life!

In this way only can there be any hope whatsoever of an answer to St. Paul's prayerful wish: "Complete my joy by being of the same mind, with the same love, united in heart, thinking one thing." Only people whose "yes" is "yes" and "no" is "no" are in any position to build the social cohesion and unity that the success of our church's mission and of our human family's endeavors requires. Our society today needs such clear and reliable witnesses, committed to the good not out of self-interest but in light of the good to be accomplished. It is the most important contribution that you can make towards elevating the content and quality of our civil and political conversion today. The witness of a truth spoken in love makes all the difference.

"Have in you the same attitude that is also in Christ Jesus." Religious Education is about engendering and supporting an attitude of spiritual generosity. This is an attitude that gives life, that lifts up. Ours is not to have an attitude that is ever self-centered or self-assertive in the style of our contemporary society. The wonderful role of teacher, of catechist, is to mentor and to animate, calling forth an informed and genuine attitude of life and love in our youngsters. What they hear from the world will not nourish their heart and soul. That is a labor of love that God has entrusted to us, together. Please help us encourage families to participate in this ministry. Walking together we can awaken hearts and souls to a life of beauty, goodness and truth.

Asking God's blessing on you, your family and loved ones, I am,

Yours in the Lord's service,

Msgr. Timothy J. Moran

Join the Creation Care Team and the Franciscan Friars to celebrate Care for Creation and the Feast of St. Francis on Sunday, October 4 at 10 am at St. Anthony's Shrine, 100 Arch Street, Boston. Come celebrate, pray, and renew your commitment to care for our Common Home.

The Creation Care Corner:

Season of Creation

The Creation Care Team held a Mass for the Care of Creation on September 19. Father Stephen led the service with assistance from Deacon Kris and members of the CCT team. It was held at Hammond Park, a small, private and quiet park at the harbor's edge in Marblehead. We picked this site since the theme of this year's Season of Creation is Living Water. Here, we could contemplate how water flows and how all life is sustained through water.

The Mass focused on gratitude for the gift of creation, our role as stewards of creation, a commitment to the protection and renewal of the environment, solidarity with communities affected by environmental degradation and natural disasters, and a commitment to care for the earth for present and future generations.

Pope Leo approved the Care of Creation Mass and celebrated it last summer. The English translation was approved for use in the US this summer. We incorporated prayers and readings from the new Mass into our service. We look forward to celebrating the Mass in its entirety at other times during the year.

Comments from Deacon Joe

Michaelmas

Clarification: I've previously noted that the Supreme Court's term begins on the first Monday of October, which is is also the first Monday after Michaelmas in most years. I thought that this was a carryover from the English custom of a "Michaelmas Term" of courts and universities. Recently I learned that Congress has changed the date from time to time. So while it is possible that in colonial times the October date was a carryover from England, it is not certain that it is behind current law. Nevertheless, I continue to make Michaelmas my personal end of summer by switching from straw to felt hats on that day.

Continuing his review of the Council's Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy, Pope Leo on May 27 notes that the Council began the document by saying there were "particularly cogent reasons for undertaking the reform and promotion of the liturgy". There was an understanding that the renewal of the liturgy was essential for the renewal of the life of the whole Church. Furthermore tradition is not static but has always been developing. In our own time it was necessary "to enable the faithful to participate fruitfully, through ritual actions, in the Paschal Mystery of Christ, the foundation of the Christian faith" so that our participation in the Mass can truly be the "driving force for evangelization" which it should be. The pope concludes this talk by saying "I therefore urge all …, in particular priests …, to always uphold that respect for the texts and regulations of the liturgy which springs from an inner attitude of openness and trust in God, manifesting humility before His greatness and sincere fidelity to ecclesial communion" https://www.vatican.va/content/leo-xiv/en/audiences/2026/documents/20260527-udienza-generale.html.
Fr. O'Grady has also written in his latest column about the liturgical reforms. He points out that there had been a century of research into the history of the liturgy, of which the Council was aware. The Council called for extensive training in the revised liturgy to be given, first to current bishops and priests, then to current and future seminarians, and finally to all the faithful. In my own experience, the teaching about the reforms was incomplete, and it was only through experience and gradual exposure to teaching about the reasons for the reforms that I came to appreciate those reforms. I would not want the Church to go back to the way Mass was in the 1950's https://www.thebostonpilot.com/Opinion/article.asp?ID=203321.

This week on September 29 we celebrate the Feast of Sts. Michael, Gabriel, and Raphael, Archangels. Formerly it was simply the Feast of St. Michael (Michaelmas). The feasts of Gabriel and Raphael had been established in 1921 and they were folded into the current celebration in 1970. All three are mentioned in scripture. Michael's name means "Who is like God." In the book of Daniel he is the defender of God's people and in Revelation he leads God's forces in the final defeat of the powers of evil. Gabriel, whose name means "God's strength," is most prominent as the angel who announces that Mary is chosen to be the mother of the Messiah. We learn of Raphael ("God's Remedy") in the Book of Tobit, where he guides Tobit's son Tobiah on the journey on which he marries Sarah and then he provides the remedy for Tobit's blindness https://mycatholic.life/saints/saints-of-the-liturgical-year/september-29st-michael-archangel/.
The Memorial of St. Jerome, Doctor of the Church, follows on September 30. He was born in Dalmatia, and after some time in Rome went to Bethlehem, where he died in 420 at about 75 years of age. He translated the whole Bible into Latin and wrote commentaries on it all. He is one of the four great Fathers of the Western Church https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jerome.
October 1 is the Memorial of St. Therese of the Child Jesus, Doctor of the Church, Therese of Lisieux, "the Little Flower." There is a statue of her in our church between the main altar and the tabernacle. She was a Carmelite nun who died at the age of 24 in 1897 and was canonized. Her "little way" of holiness, based on humility, simplicity, and love, has inspired many with the knowledge that holiness is open to all, not just for extraordinary souls https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Thérèse_of_Lisieux.
On October 2 we clebrate the Memorial of the Holy Guardian Angels. Each of us has a guardian angel to protect us from evil, to pray for us, and to bring our souls safely home to God when we die. (They are the patron Saints of the American-Cassinese Congregation of Benedictines, to which St. Anselm Abbey belongs.) https://www.franciscanmedia.org/saint-of-the-day/feast-of-the-guardian-angels/.

Have a good week.
