OUR LADY STAR OF THE SEA

Marblehead, Massachusetts

March 12, 2023
Third Sunday of Lent

Dear Parishioner of Our Lady Star of the Sea,

“Give me a drink!” These words from today’s Gospel (see John 4:5-42) are particularly urgent. They are, first of all, the words of Jesus to the Samaritan woman. They anticipate his words from the cross in which he would express his thirst that all peoples be forgiven in the outpouring of God’s merciful love. The words are also appropriate for those who are preparing to receive baptism this coming Easter. It is appropriate also for us to consider these same words as our own. During Lent we examine our lives in detail and thirst to rededicate ourselves to Gospel Living.

“Whoever drinks the water I shall give will never thirst; the water I shall give will become in him a spring of water welling up to eternal life.” For all of us who make the Lenten journey of repentance and renewal, this journey serves as a reminder of the great power of love in which our lives have been submerged. St. Paul tells us in the Second Reading: “the love of God has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us.” Having such great life, such great joy, we are to pour it forth now as our gift to the thirsting world. Baptism, Confirmation and Eucharist are the sacraments in which we are transformed by the power of God’s life and love. We receive a never failing fountain of joy arising within us. In just that sense the Samaritan Woman, who received Jesus’ promise for such a spring of water within her, left her bucket behind and brought Good News to her neighbors instead, testifying that Jesus “told me everything I have done”. The work of Evangelization is just the same for us. We come to know the reality of God who loves us first. Knowing the new life and joy that God is for us, we reach out to share it with others. We witness to the joy and life we have come to know in God. It is because of the life, because of the joy and because of our own witness that others are impelled to investigate, are drawn in by the power of God’s own ways. Then they, like the villagers, come to see, come to hear, come to know, and come to believe.

This week, when completed, will mark the halfway point of our Lenten journey. And some of us have not even really begun to focus on Lent!! Use Lent to ask yourself: do I know what I am thirsting for in life? Do I know where it is to be found? Have I perceived the real life force and source of love that stands over and against me at every turn, the wonder of Love in which God holds you? Do I let it make a difference??

This weekend marks the kickoff of our Annual Catholic Appeal. All registered parishioners should have received a packet of information from Cardinal O’Malley. Those who did not, or those who may have lost ones received, are encouraged to take the envelopes available in the pews of the Church. The Cardinal’s request concerns our own responsibility in the mission to bring the Gospel of Christ to life in our local area. You and I are asked to think carefully on the value of bringing the Gospel to the world and on the important role that our support has in the mission of our local Church. I ask your kindness in giving his appeal every consideration.

Friday is Saint Patrick’s Day. I pray a good and fitting celebration for each and everyone! The Parish will gather in mirth on Sunday morning, after the 9:00 Mass, with food and drink, Irish Breads and hearty Irish song. Hope you will join us!

Grateful for your goodness and hopeful in your support of the Catholic Appeal, I am

Yours in the Lord’s service

Mmgr. Timothy J. Moran

Comments from Deacon Joe

St. Patrick

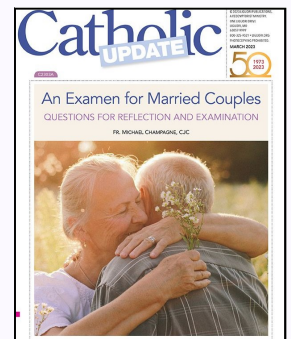

St. Patrick As you probably already know, St. Patrick is the patron saint of Ireland. He is also the principal patron saint of the Archdiocese of Boston. This means that while St. Patrick's Day is a memorial in most of the Roman Catholic world, it has the rank of a feast in this diocese, and a solemnity (and holy day of obligation) in Ireland. Cardinal Seán has dispensed us from the requirement to abstain from meat on March 17, so we can have corned beef or whatever else we want on that day. <https://thebostonpilot.com/article.php?ID=194198>

St. Patrick is recognized as the principal missionary who brought Christianity to Ireland in the 5th Century. Few details about his life are known for certain, including the dates of his birth and death. He wrote an autobiographical work the "Confession," which gives some details but is often vague. He was the son of Roman-British official and was kidnapped by raiders and enslaved in then-pagan Ireland for six years after which he escaped. During his captivity, he accepted the Christian faith of his parents. Some years later, he returned to Ireland as a missionary and had considerable success. After his death, the Irish remained staunchly Catholic until well into the 20th Century, and sent waves of missionaries to many lands around the world. So it's appropriate for us to celebrate the work of this great saint and its ongoing effects through the ages. https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Saint_Patrick

Catholic Update This month's Update, now available, has the title "An Examen for Married Couples: Questions for Reflection and Examination." There are sidebars explaining what "examen" is, offering some resources, noting that the family is the "domestic church" the basic cell of the larger body of the Church and giving an encouraging quote from Pope Francis. But at its heart is a series of questions for reflection and discussion by couples, and possibly other members of the family. I hope couples and families will find it helpful

Another idea for Lent On March 1 the editor of America magazine published this editorial with a suggestion for Lent. <https://www.americamagazine.org/faith/2023/03/01/antisemitism-catholic-lent-244822> His suggestion is that we should act, not just speak, against antisemitism. I'll add that if you plan to show solidarity by attending a Sabbath service, it would be a good idea to call and let them know you're coming rather than making it a surprise. Whether or not you follow Fr. McDermott's suggestions, it's good to be reminded that we should do what we can to remove antisemitism from our society, wherever it lurks.

This week there is only the Feast of St. Patrick on the 17th to mention.

Happy St. Patrick's Day!
Have a Blessed Lent.
